Greece has been set on the golfing map as a golf destination in the last few years.

Corfu is one the most popular international tourist destination with direct daily flights from all major cities during the touristic season. UNESCO has included the old town of Corfu as a World Heritage Monument, confirming it as one of the top sightseeing attractions worldwide.

Corfu is a magical destination all year long. As a visitor you will be surrounded by the Venetian, French and British influences on the architectural structure of the town, the monuments and vegetation of the island. With an all year round pleasant climate in which to enjoy golf.
The Club was designed in 1969 by the famous golf architect Donald Harradine, who blended the natural resources of the Ropa Valley with the man made water hazards.

The mature 18-hole course, enjoyable for all categories of golfers, includes the river, where according to the myth, Odysseus was rescued by Princess Nafsika.

The large and challenging greens, the tree lined fairways and the bunkers in combination with the lakes, against a backcloth of hills and mountain, create a unique golf course for the professional or the amateur golf player.
Corfu Golf Club

The Scottish PGA Golf Professional at the Club shares his expertise with every visitor, and also imparts lessons to beginners and experienced golfers of all ages.

At the Club House, which is built of local stone, visitors will find the Club’s Restaurant, where they can enjoy beverages and traditional dishes. Take a stop at the pro shop which gives the opportunity to buy clothes and accessories.

Several competitions and tournaments take place every season, where the competitors travel from all over the world to take part. Corfu Golf Club has hosted the European Men’s Club Cup, the European Ladies Club Trophy as well as the Hellenic International Championship & Nations Cup and many other Championships.
In fantastic weather conditions, golfers have the opportunity to enjoy competitive golf all year round, combining it with the island’s hospitality and great traditional cuisine.

Visiting Corfu Golf Club is a true golfing experience!
